Beyond time and space: 'Loki' returns with uncontrollable powers

We've all done the time warp and explored the multiverse, but it's high time to sort out the timeline. A brand-new season of "Loki" premieres Friday, Oct. 6, on Disney+. Tom Hiddleston ("The Essex Serpent") returns as the God of Mischief, everyone's favorite troublemaker, Loki, who has developed a mysterious problem this season.

Owen Wilson ("Haunted Mansion," 2023) is back as Mobius M. Mobius, the Time Variance Authority agent tasked with helping Loki right his wrongs across the multiverse. The first season of "Loki" saw the Norse God meet his match in an alternate version of himself. Sophia Di Martino ("The Electrical Life of Louis Wain," 2021) is Sylvie, a variant of Loki who interrupts the Sacred Timeline. After coming together to set things right across space and time, Loki returned to what he thought would be the TVA headquarters he left before his mission, but something still wasn't right.

In the official trailer for the upcoming season, Mobius brings Loki to a repair shop of sorts, manned by TVA repair guy OB, portrayed by Ke Huy Quan ("American Born Chinese"). Before the pair have time to explain what's brought them there, Loki suddenly, uncontrollably disappears in a timeslip, leaving Mobius looking to OB for an answer. "It's impossible to timeslip in the TVA," is all he can say, though they just watched it happen.

"Loki" executive producer Kevin Wright told Entertainment Weekly in September that ``[OB's] job is basically every piece of tech, every computer, every thing that is running at the TVA. ... He either designed it or he fixes it and keeps it running." Having recently picked up an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actor in 2022's "Everything Everywhere All At Once," Quan is well suited to help repair another multiverse.

While Quan's character is the latest to join Loki's crew as he chases chaos across the multiverse, several cast members return for the new season, including Gugu Mbatha-Raw ("Surface") as Ravonna Renslayer, an ambitious judge in the TVA who oversees Loki's case. Literally backing up Loki at one point in the season's trailer alongside Mobius, Sylvie and OB is Wunmi Mosaku ("We Own This City") as Hunter B-15. Eugene Cordero ("Star Trek: Lower Decks") returns as Hunter K-5E. former TVA receptionist.

The upcoming seasons also star Neil Ellice ("Halo 4: Forward Unto Dawn") as Hunter D-90, Jonathan Majors

("Creed III," 2023) as He Who Remains and Tara Strong ("Teen Titans Go!") as the voice of Miss Minutes. Rafael Casal ("Blindspotting"), Kate Dickie ("Annika") and Liz Carr ("Silent Witness") all join the cast this season in as-yet-unnamed roles.

Odd couple M <sup>1</sup> <sup>1</sup> Loki unsurprisingly have different approaches to their world-saving mission spanning space and time. While the former admits in the "Loki" teaser trailer that he prefers his "slow, deliberate, cerebral approach" honed by years in the bureaucracy of the TVA, while the Norse god is "a man of action, which is fine." Unconvincing, given Loki is the source of the destruction that they are trying to stave off.

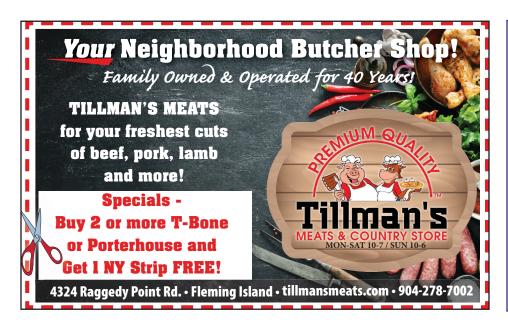

While Disney has remained characteristically tight-lipped about the new season of "Loki" ahead of its premiere, Mbatha-Raw promised in a December 2022 interview with Entertainment Tonight that fans "are gonna be in for a real treat because the show is bolder and more surreal." She added that the upcoming season "goes to some bigger, bolder places than Season 1, which is really exciting." Wright promised something similar in his September EW interview, saying, "We made a weird show [in Season 1], and people responded to how weird it was ... so, we wanted to push it further.'

Creepy confections: 'The Big Bake' returns with a Halloween-themed season

Dig into some deadly delights as a new episode of "The Big Bake: Halloween" airs Monday, Oct. 9, on Food Network.

The series, hosted by Brad Smith ("Eddsworld"), welcomes returning "Big Bake" champions and veterans, each looking to redeem themselves in this larger-than-life, "Halloween"-themed event.

Food Network describes: "In each episode, three professional baking teams have five hours to design, bake and decorate a grand-scale cake creation based on a particular theme. These bakers need to think big and bold, blowing up their designs to gigantic proportions and thinking outside the (bakery) box."

As "Big Bake" competitions take place throughout the year, this iteration celebrates the spookiest and scariest season of them all, tasking bakers with eye-popping and downright dreary challenges that feature spooky Halloween treats, creepy clown cakes, fa-boo-lous shrieks, scares and costumes galore.

So far this season, the teams have been asked to create cakes of the best "boo-ticians" in town, decorated with their creepy clientele, and then made their way to the carnival, where funhouse screams were on the menu as Smith asked the baking teams to create some spine-chilling desserts. But fear not. The scariest snacks are still to come.

During this upcoming episode, Food Network promises that witches will be the "talk of the town," as a description for the challenge shares that "Brad Smith asks the baking teams to wave their magic whisks to create cakes featuring the queens of Halloween." In the following weeks, the competition continues, as bakers serve some "big bog bakes" with swamp-themed cakes and later tackle their fears by making creations that feature thrill-seeking monsters.

As tension rises and suspense builds, bakers must do their best to impress this season's judges – pastry chef Ron Ben-Israel ("Cake Wars"), cornerback-turned-chef Eddie Jackson ("Outchef'd") and internet personality/cookbook author Danni Rose ("Danni's Juke Joint Comfort Food Cookbook: Modern-Day Recipes, Ole Skool Flavas," releasing in November 2023) – and avoid elimination, making it to the end of the competition, where the most ambitious (and terrifying) baker will go home with a $10,000 prize.

Jam-packed with creepy confections, taunting treats and bizarre baked goods, new episodes of "The Big Bake: Halloween" air Mondays through October on Food Network.

playerprofile BY ROBERTO JOZEF Crouch, bind, set: Finn Russell and team Scotland take on the IRFU

The Rugby World Cup continues this week as Celtic rivals Ireland and Scotland get set to face off at the Stade de France in Saint-Denis, just north of Paris, Saturday, Oct. 7, in what will be their final group stage match of the tournament. The match will be broadcast live on NBC.

Historically, Ireland and Scotland have played each other twice in previous Rugby World Cup tournaments, with Scotland coming out victorious 24-15 in Edinburgh, Scotland (1991), and Ireland walking away with a 27-3 win in Yokohama, Japan (2019).

Following a frustrating World Cup opening performance against South Africa in Marseille this year - South Africa posted a modest 18-3 victory over Scotland - Scotland's superstar fly-half Finn Russell remains optimistic, telling reporters he believes his squad still has what it takes, despite not getting the start they'd hoped for. "As frustrated as we are, there is a lot to work on and still everything to play for," Russell said.

There is no doubt that the loss to South Africa leaves Scotland and Russell with no room for error, specifically against a strong Irish squad — ranked first in the world at press time. Ireland has come out of the gates swinging in Pool B, first taking down Romania, 82-8, before beating Tonga, 59-16, in their first couple of matches of the tournament.

Now, Scotland and Russell will need to put up the fight of a lifetime against one of the top-ranked sides in rugby.

Don't miss any of the Rugby World Cup action as Ireland takes on Scotland at the Stade de France Saint-Denis, Saturday, Oct. 7, airing live on NBC.

Wayne Brady

OF LET'S MAKE A DEAL ON CBS

Louie Anderson had guided "Family Feud" from 1999 to 2002 (Steve Harvey started in the latter show in 2010). In interviews, Brady has maintained that he never wanted to be just one thing in the entertainment world ... not exclusively an actor nor a comic (a skill he has displayed plentifully on the improvisation-oriented "Whose Line Is It Anyway?") nor a singer (he was nominated for a 2009 Grammy Award for his cover of Sam Cooke's "A Change Is Gonna Come"). He also has appeared on Broadway in "Chicago," "Freestyle Love Supreme" and "Kinky Boots." Along with "The Price Is Right," extra episodes of "Let's Make a Deal" have been made expressly for CBS' prime time lineup. That will continue for both shows during the upcoming television season, when they are slated to be seen on Friday nights starting in November.

P12 Friday, October 6, 2023 | ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE | Clay Today

Q: How long has Wayne Brady been hosting "Let's Make a Deal"? A: Ever since CBS'

current daytime version began in 2009. Its premiere there made it a rare series to run on three different broadcast networks, since the original show – hosted by Monty Hall, also (along with business partner Stefan Hatos) a creator and producer of it – ran on NBC from 1963 to 1966, then moved to ABC, where it continued until 1976. There also were other editions before the Brady-hosted revival premiered, with NBC attempting it again twice, in daytime with Bob Hilton and (very briefly) in prime time with Bush. Brady has earned two of his five Emmy Awards for his work on "Let's Make a Deal,' and by the time he started that job, the idea of comedians becoming game-show hosts had been accepted. Among examples, Drew Carey assumed the hosting spot on "The Price Is Right" in 2007, and

In focus

"Billy the Kid" - Season 2, Part 1 (MGM+ — Oct. 15, Season Premiere)

An epic romantic adventure based on the life of Billy the Kid (Tom Blyth), from his humble Irish roots and his early days as a cowboy and gunslinger in the American frontier, to his pivotal role in the Lincoln County War and beyond.

"Wolf Like Me" - Season 2 (Peacock — Oct. 19, Season Premiere)

This series' second season follows Mary (Isla Fisher) and Gary (Josh Gad) as they leap into the next phase of their relationship and face their biggest challenge yet: pregnancy. As much as they try to have a 'normal' pregnancy, it seems impossible with so many questions looming over them. When Mary's former professor, Anton (Edgar Ramirez), suddenly reappears in her life, new secrets from Mary's past are revealed.

Redford does much to help "Condor" take flight

During the Watergate era, the conspiracy thriller was one of the most popular movie genres, and "Three Days of the Condor" was one of its best examples.

Being shown by MGM+ Drive-In on Tuesday, Oct, 10, and by MGM+ on Thursday, Oct. 12, the Sydney Pollack-directed 1975 thriller has had an enduring legacy, to the extent that it inspired "Condor" ... the series originally made for AT&T's Audience Network and picked up later by MGM+'s forerunner, EPIX. Despite some revisions to the content, the show kept the basic theme of a fugitive on the run after assassins (led in the film by a suave Max von Sydow) commit a massacre at his office, a (supposedly) disguised research office for the CIA.

In the original version, the man being chased by the killers who missed him is played by Robert Redford, playing brilliant yet vulnerable as a likable know-it-all who's savvy enough to know that a murder scheme was lifted from the "Dick

celebrityupdate OF THE MENTALIST ON CBS

Q: I just watched "Empire Records" again, and I'm wondering what happened to the actress who played Debra. The other girls went on to big stardom - did she?

A: It was a dice roll in 1995 to see which of the young female leads of that year's teen hit, "Empire Records," would become the bigger star. Liv Tyler (who played the goodie-goodie, Corey, in this film that traded in those sorts of easy teen movie tropes) went on to star in the critically well-regarded art film "Stealing Beauty" (1996) next. Meanwhile, Renee Zellwegger (Gina) made a huge box office splash the next year in "Jerry McGuire." Robin Tunney, who played the emotionally troubled Debra in "Empire Records," took a different path

- but one that seemed just as likely to lead to greater stardom. Her next role was another teen film, the era-defining "The Craft" (1996).

However, while Zellwegger and Tyler went on to even bigger roles and fame, Tunney's momentum seemed to fizzle. These days, she's mostly known as a TV supporting star. Most notably, she had one of the lead roles on CBS's procedural drama "The Mentalist," playing a police officer (and the titular "mentalist's" romantic interest) on all seven seasons of the show.

Prior to that, she starred in the surprise-hit first season of Fox's "Prison Break" in 2005 and 2006. And most recently, earlier this year she appeared in a long arc on the Apple TV+ series "Dear Edward."

realitytv BY CAROLINE COLLACUTT Teamwork time: Co-hosts' comedic chemistry shines in new series

The countdown begins when "Raid the Cage" premieres Friday, Oct. 13, on CBS. Based on the format of the Israeli game show (of the same name), "Raid the Cage" originally ran on Israel's Channel 2 (Reshet) for four seasons after making its debut in late 2013. The initial series was co-created by Shy Brameli ("India on a Rickshaw," 2020), Tal Berman ("Mischak Machur") and United Studios of Israel, while this reboot of the game show will be distributed globally by Sony Pictures Television, with Jack Martin ("@midnight") acting as both showrunner and executive producer.

In this iteration, actor/comedian Damon Wayans Jr. ("New Girl") acts as host alongside Emmy winner Jeannie Mai Jenkins ("The Real"), who together tackle what Paramount Pictures (CBS's parent company) calls a "fresh take on a thrilling international format" that has "thrilled viewers in over 15 countries internationally." In a news release for the upcoming series, Paramount also shared its excitement over the pairing of Way-ans and Jenkins, saying: "Together, the duo brings an infectious chemistry to the series, where the goal is to get in, get out and get rich.'

And that is exactly what "Raid the Cage" promises, as a description of the series given by Deadline states: "Raid The Cage' features two teams of two facing off to grab-and-go with prizes from the Cage before their time runs out and the doors close. Correctly answering questions adds seconds to the clock, giving teammates more time to grab prizes from the Cage. After three rounds, the team who banks the highest total dollar value in prizes wins the game, keeps what they have grabbed so far and plays the final round for even bigger prizes including a car."

"Strategy, teamwork and nerve are key to winning big," Paramount adds.

The series will be Wayans' latest collaboration with CBS (he also acts as an executive producer on the series), following his success with the scripted comedy series "Poppa's House," in which he stars alongside his father, Damon Wayans Sr. ("The Last Boy Scout," 1991).

celebritypipeline David Eigenberg's career is still on 'Fire'

Q: Was David Eigenberg still playing Steve on "Sex and the City" when he started working on "Chicago Fire"? - Melanie Paul, Tacoma, Wash. A: In a manner of speaking. "Sex and the City" ended its original six-season HBO run in 2004, with the movie sequels released in 2008 and 2010, and "Chicago Fire" premiered on NBC in 2012. However, Eigenberg has returned on a recurring basis as Steve Brady on Max's "Sex and the City" continuation series "And Just Like That ..., " with the character's relationship with Miranda Hobbes (Cynthia Nixon) continuing to endure twists and turns.

The nature of both "Chicago Fire" and "And Just Like That ... " has facilitated Eigenberg being able to do both shows, since they don't necessarily need all cast members present at any given time. That will be even more the case when "Chicago Fire's" next season begins, since as a cost-containment measure, all of the Dick Wolf-produced NBC shows will be reducing the number of episodes in which each of the principal cast members appear (in most cases). That would seem to portend less screen time on "Chicago for Eigenberg overall, though he'll likely be more prominent in many episodes in which he is seen. Q: Why do some of the movies on Turner Classic Movies have ending segments by the hosts while others don't now? - Richard Bradley, via e-mail

A: Most if not all of them should be restored now where they regularly appeared, which was the plan at the time this column was written. Evidently for economic considerations, a decision was made several months ago to cut the "outros" (as they're called) during the parts of the channel's schedule that are hosted, but factors including an uproar from TCM fans led to that move being reversed.

Because of the hosts' different taping schedules, it's taken a while for everything to be reinstated. The closing segments for Ben Mankiewicz's shifts started showing up again in September, and with the other hosts, everything should be back to normal soon if it isn't already.

BEST EDGAR ALLAN POE-INSPIRED MOVIES

"The Tell-Tale Heart" (1953): A real-rarity, this animated, Oscar-nominated version of Poe's short story about a haunted killer is narrated by James Mason, runs less than 10 minutes ... and was given an "X" rating by British film censors. "Phantom of the Rue Morgue"

(1954): The success of "House of Wax" the previous year made Warner Bros. eager to release another thriller in 3D, and Poe's "The Murders in the Rue Morgue" became the source of this melodrama starring Karl Malden as an experiment-immersed professor.

"House of Usher" (1960): "B"-movie legend Roger Corman began a series of Poe-inspired films for American International Pictures by casting genre staple Vincent Price as a member of the allegedly cursed Usher family who tries to ward off a would-be in-law (Mark Damon). A new version of "The Fall of the House of Usher" starts streaming Thursday, Oct. 12, on Netflix.

"The Pit and the Pendulum" (1961): Maybe the best of the Corman-made Poe adaptations, this chiller boasts one of Price's most memorable performances as the deeply troubled owner of a castle where his brother-in-law (John Kerr) gets too inquisitive for his own good. "The Premature Burial" (1962): An Englishman (Ray Milland) with a continual fear of being buried alive eventually suffers that fate ... only to be saved, setting him on a path of vengeance.

"The Raven" (1963): Corman teamed Price with two other horror-movie legends – Boris Karloff and Peter Lorre – in this saga of battling sorcerers, one of whom (Lorre) has been transformed into the title bird. Notable in the supporting cast: Jack Nicholson as Lorre's son.

"The Haunted Palace" (1963): Price worked with Corman again in this saga of the title palace, with the title supplied by Poe, though the source story actually was written by H.P. Lovecraft. "The Tomb of Ligeia" (1964):

"The Tomb of Ligeia" (1964): Corman and Price were at it again in this tale of a man seemingly haunted by his first wife while on his second marriage. Robert Towne ("Chinatown") co-wrote the screenplay. "The Masque of the Red Death"

(1964): While a plague threatens his village, a prince (a Corman-directed Price, yet again) maintains sanctuary in his castle ... but the threat finds him anyway.

threat finds him anyway. "The Oblong Box" (1969): Price stars again, along with fellow horror great Christopher Lee, in the story of a man who has his brother (Alister Williamson) put into a death trance and confined to a coffin (or "oblong box").

"Murders in the Rue Morgue" (1971): The Poe tale got a big revision here, in a screenplay about an acting troupe performing the story – and becoming murder targets themselves. "Two Evil Eyes" (1990): Genre veterans Dario Argento and George A. Romero each directed one of the two Poe-inspired stories combined in this feature, featuring Adrienne Barbeau and Harvey Keitel.

"The Raven" (2012): John Cusack plays Poe himself in a story that really links to the title tale in name only, as it follows the author through the last days of his life while he chases a serial killer who has kidnapped Poe's true love (Alice Eve) and is using elements of the writer's works to taunt him.
